“

If you take a grain of wheat and make a loaf of bread, the value add is three times. If you take a rough diamond and polish it, a good diamond cutter creates ten to fifteen times its value. However, if you take a human being, mentor, and nurture him or her, the value add is infinite. There is no resource as powerful as human resource.

As India becomes a global powerhouse, it will become increasingly necessary for management schools to meet or exceed global benchmarks, global accreditations and global recognitions. In that context, our vision is that we want JAGSOM to be a globally admired and recognized Business School. At JAGSOM, we have a global mindset with global perspective.
